

Special Clubbing Offer of the Bulletin Will Enable Popular Contestants to Claim 5000 Vote Ballots

20-BALLOT COUPONS WILL ALSO AID TO SWELL EACH TOTAL

Look Out For the Big Coupon Issued Thursday; It Will Count 20 Votes

Yesterday was another busy day in the Bulletin contest and most all the contestants changed their score.

There have been so many promises of support, by subscribers and friends of the contestants that the Bulletin is going to make a special offer of votes and have those who have promised the contestants their support, make good their promise this week, as votes count more now than they will at the close of the contest. "Do it today" should be your motto, and subscribe NOW and your favorite young woman will gain 5000 free votes. This is the offer:

5000 Free Votes

With such true pride do the contestants in the Bulletin popularity contest survey each day their increasing vote, the Bulletin has decided to offer an additional incentive to the contestants in order that they may work more effectively toward one of the most important details of any battle, that of aligning their friends to work for them. This special offer is a double one. It comprises a special ballot of 5000 votes for contestants obtaining a club of three new daily subscriptions and a special ballot coupon, good for 20 votes, to be issued next Thursday.

Candidates are not limited to one set of these extra votes, but will receive 5000 extra votes with each set turned in. Two-six months' subscriptions will count the same as one for twelve months, and a five-year subscription will count as two sets or $25,000.

Turn in the subscriptions as you receive them, and the regular vote will be issued, and when you have completed the set, 5000 votes will be given. Remember, you do not have to turn all the subscriptions in at the same time, but you can turn them in one at a time, and when you have turned in "three," enough to complete a club, the contest manager will issue the extra vote.

Remember that you receive the regular votes for old subscriptions that have been offered since the beginning of the contest, but if you secure THREE NEW YEARLY subscriptions to the Bulletin on or before Saturday, January 23rd, you will gain 5000 votes for the set. Remember, this offer is for NEW subscriptions only.

Big Coupon on Thursday

On Thursday, January 21st, the Bulletin will publish a coupon good for 20 votes in place of the one which has appeared daily. This coupon will only appear ONE DAY, and will count just TWENTY times their usual value.

Remember, this coupon will not be published again, and will appear on Thursday only, and when clipped out and deposited at the Bulletin office will count 20 votes for the candidate whose name appears thereon.

These coupons must not be deposited in the ballot box before Saturday, January 23, and they will be counted on Monday, and the score will appear in Tuesday's issue of the Bulletin. If any appear in the ballot box before Saturday they will not be counted, but will be thrown out. This is to give all those depending upon the mails an equal opportunity of sending in their votes. Look out for it, as you will only have one opportunity like this to roll up a big vote.

In order to make it fair for all, the Bulletin will not sell more than one extra copy to any one person on this BIG COUPON DAY, without first cancelling the coupon therein. Only the regular number of papers will be printed on that date.

Weekly Bulletin and Other Islands.

This same offer will also apply to the Weekly Bulletin and will appear in Tuesday's issue, and Hawaii, Maui and Kauai districts will be given until January 20th to send in their ballots and also the clubbing offer. All out-living districts will be given until Saturday, January 30th, to send in their votes on this special offer, but District No. 1 must have in all its ballots on the 23d, only where they are depending on the mail and all mail showing postmark of January 23 at the office from which it is mailed, will be allowed. Districts Nos. 2, 3 and 4 will be given until January 30.

Clip Them Out Carefully

Contestants may take the trip any time they choose. Contestants are not limited to the district in which they are entered, but are allowed to secure votes from any other District, County or State.

coupons from the paper. Votes come into the office all wadded up, and look as if they had been cut out with an axe, and it is almost impossible to count them correctly. Contest managers have tempers as well as any one else, and when the votes are taken from the ballot box all wadded up, with strings tied around them, it is next to impossible to give the correct count, and when errors are made the manager is to blame. Place them in envelopes or pin them together, and it will greatly facilitate matters. Do it now.

All of the contestants are doing their share of vote getting, and it is new up to their friends who have entered them and to those who have promised to support them, to do so at once, and give the contestants the advantage of the special offer for 5000 free votes. One six-months' subscription is worth more than all the consolation you may give them after the contest is closed. "Do it today" should be your motto.

New and Old Subscriptions.

A number of inquiries regarding new and old subscriptions have been made. Votes are allowed on both, but only where they pay in advance. Votes are allowed on arrears provided an advance payment accompany the arrears. The few old subscribers have asked if they can discontinue their present subscription and take out another one in some other name, but this is strictly against the rules of the contest and when the change is discovered the votes will be deducted. New subscriptions mean increase in circulation, and changing the name of the subscriber from one member of the family to another, or to some friend, does not make it a new subscription. This rule will be strictly enforced and will make the vote schedule absolutely fair to all. No Blank Votes.

subscriptions are issued and a number of old subscribers have asked for their votes when they pay for their subscription and requested that the ballot be left blank and they will fill in the name of the contestant that they desire, but this request will not be granted, as it is not fair for the contestant. You must always state the name of the young woman whom you are voting for and the ballots will be filled out in full and you may hold the ballot as long as you desire or give them to the contestant and she can hold them or cast them just as she sees fit, as all ballots issued on subscriptions are good until the close of the contest, but if they are left blank, they would then be transferable, and there could be a combination, at the last minute, to enable those not entered at the present time, to win, but votes are not transferable and there is absolutely no chance of a combination, which makes it absolutely fair to all the contestants.

Short Contest

The contest is of short duration and will close some time about the middle of March. The exact date will be decided upon in a few days. This will be the shortest contest the Bulletin has ever conducted and is made short, in order that the work will not become tiresome to the contestants. Each contestant should commence today to ask their friends for support and tell them to help you now and not stand you off with promises of support, as it will be hard for you to call on them again. Each contestant is furnished with receipt books and those who have not secured a book as yet should call on the Contest Manager and secure one and have your friends pay you their subscription and you bring the money to the office and the ballots will be issued to you in person; don't depend on your friends to come to the office and pay but have them pay you on your first visit, and it will be easier for all concerned to roll up a large vote. Your friends may mean all right when they tell you they will vote for you later, but something may happen that they will neglect to come to the office and pay; therefore it is the surest way to secure their subscription, to call on them at once and ask them to pay you in person, and you are then sure of the votes.

How To Vote

Subscribers who depend on the mails to bring their subscriptions to the Bulletin office, must always state whom they want their votes cast for, always mention the contestant's name and whether you want the votes published at once or returned to the contestant. It is best to return all ballots to the contestant and she will then know who is voting for her and can keep track of her friends who have voted, and then will have more time to call on those who have not paid their subscription and in this way she can make a thorough canvass of all her friends, and it will make the work much easier for her. Send your subscription direct to the Contest Department and the votes will be issued for the one you state and they will be returned to the contestant with your name on it, and she can hold the ballots back until the close of the contest, but ballots will not be issued unless the contestant's name appears on same, which makes it a safe-guard against all combinations, which often arise in contests of this nature and makes it absolutely fair for the contestant, as no contestant can then withdraw from the race and transfer her votes to someone else.

Subscription Blanks

Candidates should call on the Contest Manager at once and secure subscription books, and there are a number of things he would like to tell you, in regard to the best way of securing votes. Call at once at the Bulletin office.

KAMEHAMEHA NOTES

[Contributed]

Frank Mackenzie, captain of the Kamehameha School track team, is very anxious to get a crack at En Sue, the boy who seems to be the best runner in the Islands. Mackenzie is said to be by far the best short-distance runner on this island. He can give any of the Y. M. C. A. men a close run. He expects to do great things for his team this year.

The Kamehameha School soccer team had a try-out Friday afternoon with a picked team. It was a hard-fought game, neither sides scoring. Whiting is waiting for the other school captains to come together so as to arrange dates for games.

The bugles for the Kamehameha Cadets arrived by the Lurline yesterday and the buglers were busy all day practicing. There will be dress parade Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the School grounds.
